Cliff Stuart Hurt In Gas Explosion

C. L. Stuart, owner and operator of Stuart's Machine Shop in Canal Point, suffered severe first and second degree burns on his face, neck, arms and chest and possible eye injury in a gasoline explosion at his shop Wednesday morning.

Mr. Stuart was welding with an acetylene torch and dipped a cup into an open pail which he assumed contained water, but instead of pouring water on the red hot steel to temper it, he poured a cup of gasoline which exploded instantly together with the 4 gallons of gas in the pail.

The exploding gas, which enveloped Mr. Stuart, also spattered on Ray Ursry, a mechanic employed in the shop, who was also working at a welding job a short distance away. Ursry quickly brushed out the fire on his own clothing and rushed to the rescue of Mr. Stuart, smothering the flames and ripping off the blazing clothes of the stricken man.

The heat was so intense that Stuart's celluloid spectacle frames were burned off his face and hair not covered by his cap was singed off. He was rushed to the Everglades Memorial Hospital for emergency treatment and then taken to West Palm Beach for further examination and treatment for his burned eyes.

Before the accident occurred Mr. Stuart was unaware that earlier that morning a negro helper, in search of container for gasoline to clean greasy motor parts, had emptied the water out of the emergency fire protection pail and filled it with gasoline, then after completing his cleaning job, the helper had returned the pail to its regular position in the shop without emptying the gasoline.

Dr. Young Moves To New, Modern Office

Dr. Wilburn C. Young, Canal Point physician, will move his offices to his new modern office building in Canal Point today. For many years Dr. Young has had offices in the Canal Point Pharmacy.

M. F. George, contractor, this week finished the new modern office building next door to the old location. The attractive new building is constructed of concrete blocks with a terrazzo floor and poured concrete roof. It is to be fully air conditioned.

Dr. Young in a notice in this week's paper tells his many friends of his move into new and modern quarters. He will be happy to see his many friends and patrons in his new location.

Donald Harrington Graduates At U of Fla.

Donald Harrington of Port Mayaca will be graduated from the University of Florida on Saturday of this week with his BS degree in agriculture and with the title of entomologist. His mother, Mrs. J. S. Harrington, left today for Gainesville in order to witness his graduation Saturday.

Twin Calves Twice In The Same Day

Walter G. Hull, Pahokee grower and cattleman, has a big brute of a registered Brahman bull of which he has reason to be proud, especially in view of the statistical data that in the bovine world twin calves are born once in 10,000 births.

On the morning of Jan. 14 Mr. Hull considered himself a lucky cattlemen when one of his cows gave birth to twin calves, however, a couple hours later on the same morning he was a little astonished when another cow in the same pasture also delivered twin calves. Mr. Hull reports all four calves are fully developed and growing normally and their sire is the Brahman bull.

B. Elliott Will Not Offer For Governor

B. Elliott of Pahokee announced on Wednesday of this week that he will not seek the governorship in 1952, but, will be a candidate for reelection as state representative in group two from Palm Beach county.

Mr. Elliott was speaker of the House of Representatives in 1951 and won a host of friends who were urging him to throw his hat into the governor's race. His announcement Wednesday left three outstanding contenders in the race for the state's highest job: Dan McCarty, Alito Adams and Bradley Odham.

The Everglades News received the following statement in a telegram from Mr. Elliott:

"For some time I have received strong encouragement from all parts of Florida to become a candidate for Governor.

"I confess being ambitious and in addition to natural personal pride in my own career I have been strongly attracted by the potential prospects of being able to put the immense power of governorship behind the principles and policies of economy and efficiency which I have tried to serve in the House of Representatives.

"These considerations have led me to consider deliberately and at length whether I should present my name to the people as a candidate for governor at this time. The serious economic and political conditions and circumstances facing our State now are such that this is no time for snap judgment or hasty action.

"After full consideration I have decided not to offer as a candidate for Governor at this time, but offer as a candidate for reelection to the House.

"If returned to the House I shall strive to be more effective in the struggle for political morality and real economy and efficiency.

"I am humbly proud and grateful for the offer of support from all sections of our great State. Whatever the future holds for me these expressions constitute a vote of confidence I shall always strive to deserve."

Miss Anna Lee Hurt has returned to her studies at the Massey Business College in Jacksonville after attending the funeral services for W. W. McCurdy and visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Hurt.

Deputy Collector Will Be In Pahokee

A Deputy Internal Revenue Collector is scheduled to be in the Pahokee City Hall on February 21 between the hours of 9 and 5 for the purpose of offering assistance to persons desiring the same in connection with the filing of current income tax returns.

The Deputy Collector will not be in a position to spend much time with each taxpayer if lengthy and involved schedules are presented since it is his desire to assist the maximum number of people. However, he will be available for advice and the preparation of returns if all needed information is presented and consolidated before consulting him.

Scouts And Rotes Hear Council Head

Scout Troop No. 23 and Scoutmaster Clyde Brown were honored guests at yesterday's meeting of the Pahokee Rotary Club. The club is the sponsoring organization for the Scouts in Pahokee. North Glades District Chairman Paul Rardin was in charge of the program and introduced the visitors.

Featured speaker of the day was Jack Faircloth, president of Gulfstream Council of the Boy Scouts. He pointed out to Rotarians many excellent reasons for the club's effort in sponsoring the Scout Troop. His talk was interesting and educational. Mr. Faircloth is serving his second year as head of the council.

Charles Gaskins, recently appointed Scout executive officer for Gulfstream council and his field assistant, Leroy Hight, were also guests of the club for the program.

W. G. Boswell, deputy regional executive for district six, Boy Scouts of America, from Atlanta was another honored guest. He made a short talk in which he complimented the local club for its sponsorship of Troop 23.

District Chairman Rardin told the Rotarians that starting next week a drive would be made for funds with which to carry on Scout work during the coming year.

Scoutmaster Brown's Troop 23 looked snappy in their spotless and freshly pressed uniforms. They won warm applause when Song Leader John Dulany and Pianist Robert O. Lampi led them in one verse of "Home on the Range."

Ellsworth Keen of the program committee arranged for Mr. Faircloth's appearance. President Hatfield Rosenberg presided.

Honeymoon Winds Up In Glades Canal

Talk about honeymoons, what do you think of this? Mr. and Mrs. Warren Snow, newlyweds who were married in Macon, Ga., Saturday, decided on a wedding trip to Miami and were blithely on their way, perhaps more engrossed in themselves than road directions, when they followed US 441 into Pahokee Monday evening.

Instead of following 441 out of Pahokee they turned right on SR 717 and went sailing down this new highway until they reached the deadend at Bacon Point and there they came to a stop in the canal, wet, cold, miserable, but luckily unhurt.

They pulled their suitcases out of the half submerged car and started walking back to Pahokee in the rain when they were picked up by John D. Rogers, drainage district engineer, who took them to the Sally Ann Hotel.

The couple have been spending this week drying out their clothes and drying the upholstery of their car which escaped damage except for the water soaking. Since their honeymoon period is limited, they are having to return to Rochester, N. Y., where they will make their home, without seeing the magic city, Miami.

Sorry folks, if you had waited for some time SR 717 wouldn't have had a deadend.

Drive Will Be Made For Boy Scout Fund

Next week has been set aside as Boy Scout fund raising week and Mrs. Al Beverly has volunteered to make an effort to secure enough money from citizens of Pahokee and Canal Point to carry on Scout work another year. Folks interested in Scout Work are asked to make their donations directly to Mrs. Beverly.

Miss Rita Faye Hurt has been confined at her home this week with the mumps.

News Notes From State Capital

TALLAHASSEE—Claude Pepper solved the No. 1 riddle of the Democratic campaigns in Florida by announcing he will not run for any office. Thus he relieved the minds of friends of U. S. Senator Spessard Holland and made it likely that Holland will be returned to another six-year term without opposition. He also made the major candidates for governor happier, because Pepper as a candidate for governor might have nosed out Dan McCarty, Alto Adams or Briley Odham for one of the two places in the second primary. As it is, Pepper said he will continue in private life, holding himself in readiness to serve his country wherever the emergency may require.

TALLAHASSEE — Governor Fuller Warren in his current column for weekly newspaper is offering to pay a reward of $1,000 from the governor's contingent fund for proof resulting in conviction of anyone for corruption in the state government. This offer is made, he wrote, "To bring about a slowdown and prevent the people of Florida from being deceived by false accusations."

TALLAHASSEE — The state railroad and public utilities commission has ordered a number of telephones restored to service, after being jerked on charges they were used for gambling, but others will have to wait awhile, most as long as a year. The others have been without phone service for periods ranging from three months to one year. The phones were removed under the 1949 bookie law, and will be kept out long enough, the commission hopes, to teach the subscribers not to let them be used for gambling again.

TALLAHASSEE — Owners of small wood lots should be sold on the idea that these properties can be valuable if handled right. This conclusion, reached at the sessions of the southeastern section, Society of American Foresters, agrees with Florida forestry policy in having foresters spend as much time as possible with owners of small timber operations. Kenneth Pomeroy, research expert at Lake City, is the new chairman; Frank Hanson of the Hudson Pulp and Paper Company at Shamrock is the vice chairman; James Snowden, Florida Forest Service, Tallahassee, is secretary-treasurer.

TALLAHASSEE — News men from widely scattered sections of the state swapped ideas on how to improve their craft, at sessions of the Southern Newsmen's Short Course put on by Florida State University under Dean Lawrence Campbell of the school of journalism. The directors of the Florida Press Association, led by President Eugene Matthews, held a formal meeting here. Among topics which were discussed in the election was the effect of the new election law on freedom of the press.

TALLAHASSEE — Millard Caldwell, U. S. Civil Defense Chief, has advised friends here there is no truth to reports he had asked to be relieved. What he said when he took the position, he said, was that he "would stay until we could create a civil defense organization and that I did not wish to stay longer than necessary." Caldwell early took himself out of speculation on whether he might run again for governor, by declaring he would not.

TALLAHASSEE — Florida added 64 million dollars worth of new rooms and apartments to its bid for transit trade this last year. James T. Landor of the state hotel and restaurant commission has reported for 1951. Commission architects approved construction or remodeling of 1,225 apartment buildings, 39 hotels, 223 motor courts, 62 rooming houses and 361 restaurants.

TALLAHASSEE — R. A. Gray, secretary of state, has asked for a ruling from Attorney General Richard W. Ervin on how a preferential primary for president may be held here May 6 under the new election law. He said it appeared to him that the names of presidential candidates would go on the ballot, to advise the delegates to the conventions, and that delegates could run either as pledged or unpledged.

TALLAHASSEE — A suit to test the right of the state to pay $225,000 to help the University of Miami start the state's first medical school presents a court case in the opinion of Circuit Judge W. May Walker of the Second Circuit. He has ordered E. Dixie Beggs, Pensacola attorney representing five taxpayers, to file a brief on his contention that the 1951 act is invalid because it tries to appropriate state money to a private institution. The act itself was bitterly bought by friends of the University of Florida, which has authorization under another law to build a medical school if the state ever gets enough money to do it.

TALLAHASSEE — Florida Board of Parks and Historic Memorials will hold its regular meeting, opening at 10 a. m., Monday, February 4, in the George Washington Hotel, Jacksonville, State Park Director Lewis G. Scoggins announced here. Board members are Mrs. Harold Butts, chairman, Ormond Beach; M. Brooks Hayes, vice chairman, Blountstown; Mrs. Elizabeth M. Towers, secretary, Jacksonville; Miles Collier, Everglades, and Karl A. Bickel, Sarasota.

Scoggins said that routine business matters would be discussed and acted upon by the board.

Delmar L. Hooks and Mrs. Hazel Jenkins were called to Georgia by the death of their brother, Rev. Fred Hooks, in Savannah on Saturday. Funeral services were held at the Methodist Church in Garden City, Ga., Tuesday.

This program will include the appearance of Ma and Pa Johnson of the famous Johnson family singers heard over CBS for the past ten years.

Cinematic Chatter

Debbie Reynolds and Hugh O'Brien are certainly seeing much of each other . . . and in secluded spots. Marie Windsor, that very "moxy" miss seen in some corking good film roles and Rod Cameron, huge hunk of man who fights his way through most of the Western pictures we see him in are casting honeyed eyes at each other and it is reported they are seen very much at the best places. Joan Crawford, who will always be a lovely lady is going about with Caesar Romero and they seem to enjoy each others society above every one else. Ann Rutherford, star of the dark eyes and dashing figure, has Bill Dozier on the hook and is toying with him here and there. Ann Miller, tops in tape and act high in figure has Bill O'Connor that way and piloting her about to the fun spots in and about the film colony. Rhonda Fleming has arrived home from her tremendously successful personal appearance tour of Europe filled with exciting tales of her adventures and all the fun she had. One of her biggest thrills, she said, was meeting the Royal Family in London. It is reported Miss Fleming made a fine impression with the King, Queen and other members of the family. "LADIES" already! My, how they have grown!
And you can say the same for Florida's telephone service.

IN JUST FIVE years in Florida, the number of telephones you can call has more than doubled.

BEST OF ALL, the price of this bigger, better "package" of service has gone up on the average far less than prices in general . . . and less than our cost of providing the service.

ALWAYS a bargain, telephone service is today an even better buy than it was ten years ago, and a smaller part of the family budget.

Steadfast, consecrated devotion to God, divine Love, results in peace, assurance, and spiritual exaltation. This is the theme of Christian Science services next Sunday when the subject is "LOVE".

The Golden Text is from I John (4: 16): "We have known and believed the love that God hath to us. God is love; and he that dwelleth in love dwelleth in God, and God in him."

Bible passages include: "Humble yourselves therefore under the mighty hand of God, that he may exalt you in due time. Casting all your care upon him; for he caretaketh for you" (I Pet. 5: 6, 7).

Correlative citations from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy include: "Trials are proofs of God's care. Spiritual development germinates not from seed sown in the soil of material hopes, but when these decay, Love propagates anew the higher joys of Spirit, which have no taint of earth" (p. 66).

Agriculture Continues To Grow In Palm Beach County, Commissioners Are Told

Agriculture in Palm Beach County is a "steadily growing industry," County Agricultural Agent M. U. "Red" Mounts told the County Commission in a narrative report Monday.

He reported that "the Federal Census shows that we have 39,000 beef cattle in the county—which is well up in the average of the State." Whereas in the past most cattle feed for the South Florida section had been imported, Mr. Mounts reported that more and more is being grown in this area.

Average size of the farm in this county is approximately 400 acres, as compared to the 200-acre average in 1945, he told the board.

Mr. Mounts reported this agricultural year as "fairly good in the Glades section, although it has been tighter on the coast, because of the weather."

Also reporting on their activities were John Causey, assistant agent; Miss Sami Horton, county home demonstration agent, and Miss Elizabeth Hudson, her assistant.

Commissioners also:

Heard an annual report by Dr. W. E. VanLandingham, county physician, on the county hospital and clinic, which he described as "in good shape."

Agreed to recommend to the US Bureau of Animal Industry that it waive quarantine rules for importation of animals for use in the "Africa, U. S. A., Botanical and Zoological Gardens" west of Boca Raton. The new gardens will import zebras, giraffes and other jungle animals, according to owner Jack Pedersen. Ft. Lauderdale.
